VoIP wholesaler heads south

SYDNEY — ISPhone, a local company that supplies VoIP to the SME market, is to expand into Melbourne. It will add a local office and a network point of presence (PoP) to effect the move.

The company wants to be Australia's largest whole saler of business-grade SME VoIP services by the end of the year, and says it also has plans to expand into other areas of the Asia-Pacific region. ISPhone says it is now seeking staff for its Melbourne operation.
